Marin County Leaders

THE ATTORNEYS OF RAGGHIANTI Freitas are leaders in and out of the courtroom. The firm counts three former Marin County Bar presidents among its partners, and prides itself on service to its community.

Respected litigators and trial attorneys who also have strong transactional backgrounds, the firm's attorneys handle complex matters focusing on land use, real estate, municipal law, employment, business, construction and estate planning. This year Ragghianti Freitas is honored to announce that three of its partners have been named to the 2008 issue of Northern California Super Lawyers[®]: Dave Feingold, Rick Franceschini and Gary Ragghianti.

Much of Feingold's practice is devoted to representing community associations, homeowners and construction professionals in construction and real estate matters. A respected litigator, he has recovered millions of dollars for his clients in construction defect actions.

Franceschini represents clients in taxation, probate and estate planning, trust and estate litigation, and business planning and litigation. A Certified Tax Specialist and a CPA, Franceschini is able to provide thorough counsel on both tax and accounting issues.

The majority of Ragghianti's practice draws on his more than 30 years of representing Marin County public agencies and cities, and emphasizes land use, zoning, environmental law and related litigation. He is also in high demand as a mediator who is known for tenacious and creative resolutions to complex cases.
